December 2017

Worked on a project related to self-help and motivational blog posts. The idea was to provide people something to keep them motivated throughout there journey to become successful.

With the minimalistic website design, the idea got a huge response from the users.

This project was totally handled by me, from the website Development to the content curation and photos embedded. you can check the about section for the developer details.

eCommerce website

May 2020

I am working with a startup known as shobbr.com an eCommerce website.

the special thing about this startup is that it provides an online platform for the local shops in any particular region, which may be any Kirana shop, fashion shop, stationery shop, or mobile shop.

I worked in this startup as a Website Developer.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Started a campaign known as Reading India Campaign. with the help of this campaign, we provide free books and stationery products to the poor children of our country so that there's no one kept away from knowledge because of poverty.
